AUTUMN WINTER 2025-26 COLLECTIONS

After the presentation of the two trends Reassurance and Connection, we propose three other trends to complete the general forum of the season.

ASSEMBLAGE

A BLEND OF TRADITION AND ECLECTICISM

The innovation of classic materials applied to the heritage of traditional tweeds, herringbones, tartans, and plaids, handed down from generation to generation but completely renewed by new materials, new blends, and new colors energized by bright or acidic colors, which optimize their classic feel.

A nod to the sobriety of traditional fashion, brought to life by the mix of unexpected color combinations, the combination of classic wools, and organic, sustainable, and regenerative technological fibers.

It's a unisex trend for a direction aimed at noble wools and natural fibers where color is used unevenly.

For the first time since SPINEXPO™ launched, this yarn and knitwear offer is enriched by a presentation of coordinated fabrics, lodens, herringbone, and wool velvets.

These products are manufactured exclusively in our exhibitors' factories.

TRANSCEND

A SENSE OF CONQUEST

A season where adventure and the desire to go beyond what has been tried and tested are at the heart of the creation.

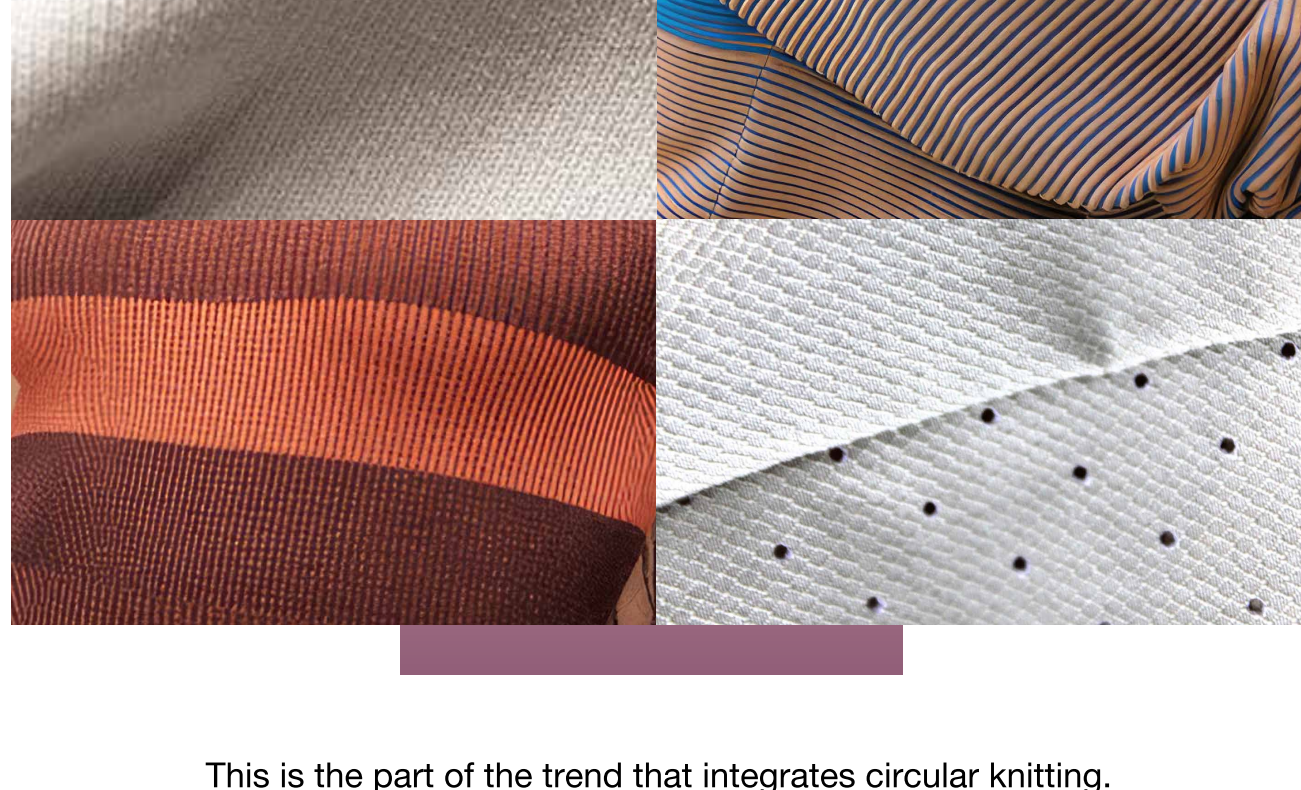

A direction inspired by the conquest of space, projection out of time and space, and the discovery of other worlds that leave room for imagination and optimism, the need for renewal and change.

This is an urban fashion where textures are important, crumpled or soft, velvety synthetic textiles and metallics, fine jacquards in soft color gradations, and a minimalist aerospace aesthetic. Classic fine wools and technical fibers, subtly metalized, silks and similar synthetic yarns, glazed finishes.

A new form of camouflage for an evolving functional direction, using skin-like or shimmering textiles in gradient prints, splashes of disparate colors assembled chaotically, tachism and colorful jacquards, surface dyes, and metallic accents.

CONGREGATE

A FEELING OF COMPETITION

This is the part of the trend that integrates circular knitting. It is the evolution between modern style and urban sports, a recovery of jogging fashion, and a mix of sport and streetwear styles, casual and modern. Traditional sportswear shapes blend with tennis or running styles, in top-quality materials.

Phosphorescent and reflective yarns are applied here.

It is a reinvention of classic sportswear integrated with casual wear, tracksuits, and comfort-focused basics, modernized by technical improvements and mesh details, contrasting stripes, and updated color blocks.

A melting pot of detailed, mixed, and mismatched stripes, and color blocks. A trend inspired by sporting competitions and events that bring generations and genders together, using stretch fabrics and easy-care quality wools, combining new fibers for easy care, water-repellent.
