TRENDS AT SPINEXPO™ (PART 4)

CONGREGATE

The trend CONGREGATE speaks of a feeling of competition, an evolution between modern style and urban sports, a recovery of jogging fashion, and a mix of sport and streetwear styles, casual and modern.

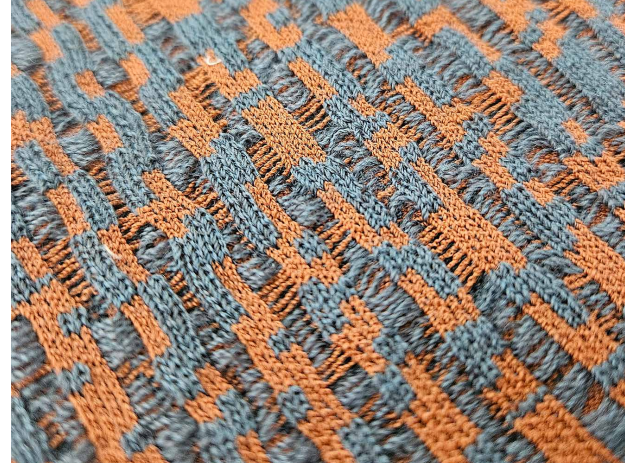

Traditional sportswear shapes blend with tennis or running styles in top-quality materials. Phosphorescent and reflective yarns are applied here. It is a reinvention of classic sportswear integrated with casual wear, tracksuits, and comfort-focused basics, modernized by technical improvements and mesh details, contrasting stripes, and updated color blocks.

CONGREGATE saw a partnership between Eva de Laat and Helga Matos as a response to accelerating global stressors—from climate change to technological upheavals—their collection champions sustainability and innovation, merging traditional craft with modern materials.

"Congregate" embodies the spirit of competition and unity, integrating urban sportswear with casual wear through advanced techniques and top-quality materials.

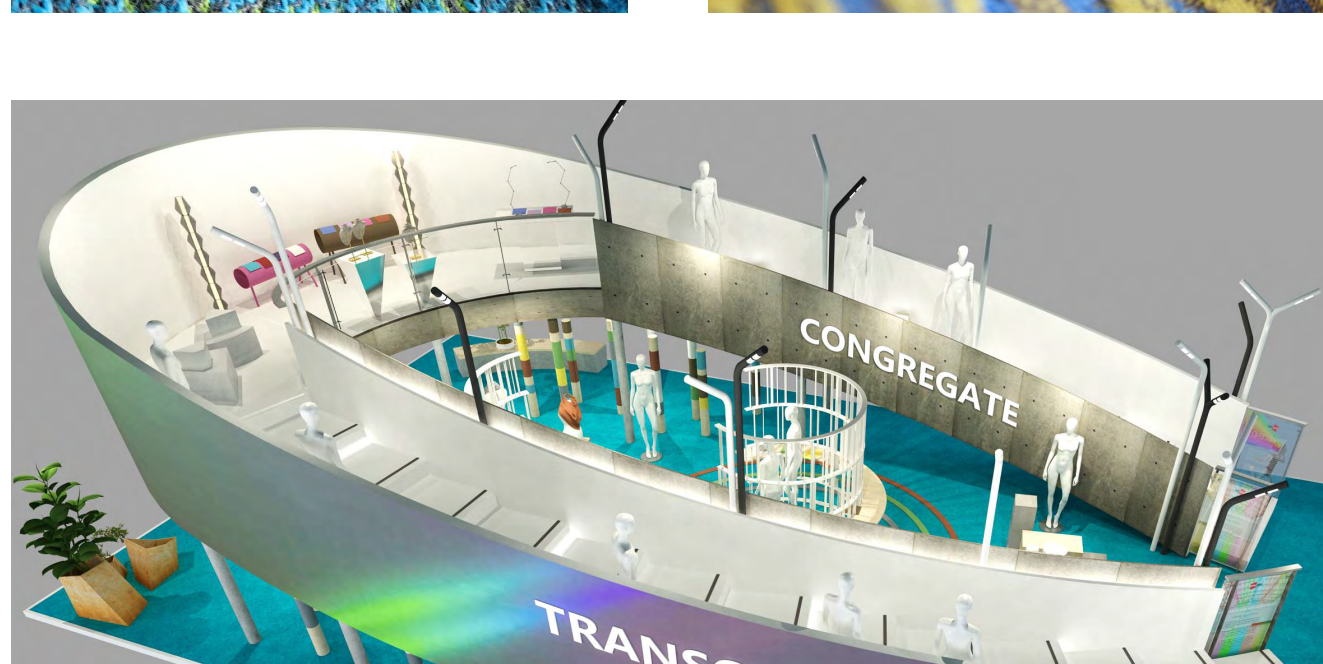

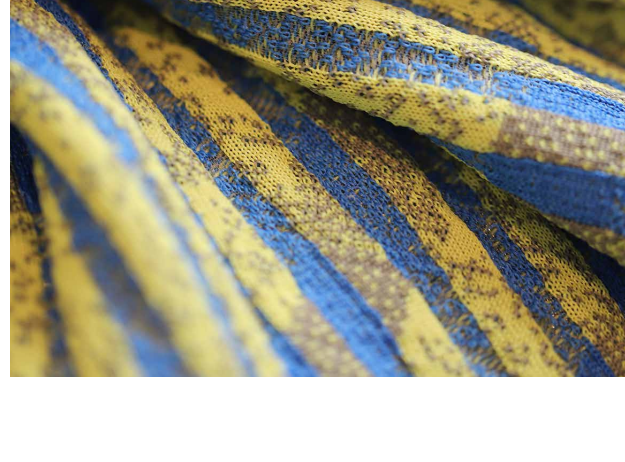

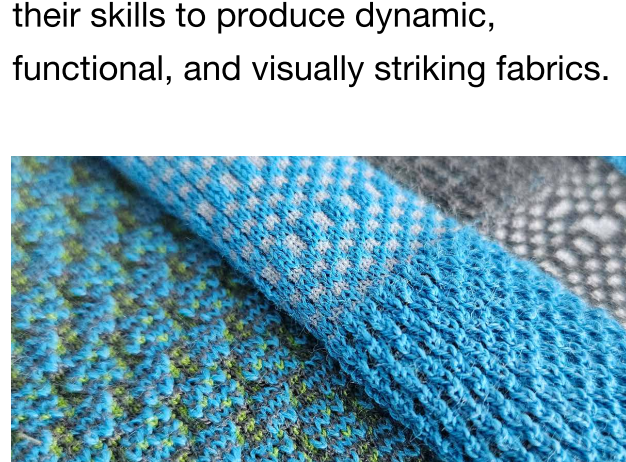

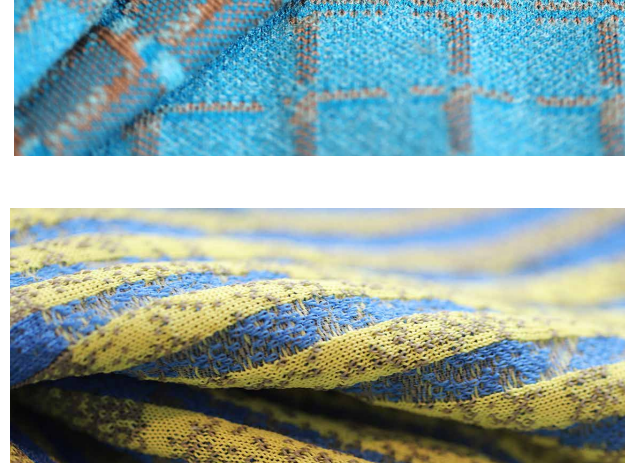

The trend is inspired by major sporting events that unite diverse generations and cultures, celebrating individuality within collective experiences.

The display features a seamless and circular knitting collection by Studio Eva x Carola and spotlights the creative synergy between Helga Matos and Eva de Laat. This collaboration merges Eva's expertise in circular knitting with Helga's woven textile innovations, creating unique bonded woven and knit materials that reflect both tradition and modernity.

Eva de Laat brings a future-forward vision and deep expertise in seamless textile development, while Helga Matos specializes in innovative woven textiles and material creation. They push the boundaries of textile design, combining their skills to produce dynamic, functional, and visually striking fabrics.

SPINEXPO's unique trend display designed by ZINESEXPO unites TRANSCEND and CONGREGATE and dynamically showcases the intersection of "TRANSCEND" and "CONGREGATE."

Visitors can experience the allure of space exploration on one side, with urban fashion inspired by otherworldly elements and the competitive spirit of modern sportswear on the other. The central feature bridges these themes, demonstrating the harmonious blend of urban fashion and athletic wear and highlighting the designers' commitment to innovation, inclusivity, and sustainable practices.
